

Rocky Mountain Rampage

The Rocky Mountain Rampage is Colorado's premier Pro/Am skateboarding event. It's an authentic, grassroots competition for skateboarders, by skateboarders. The Rampage is free and open to the public. As unique as our public, world-class class park, this public, world class extreme sporting event offers a thrilling, up close look at skateboarding, that most people have only been able to see on TV. Sporting enthusiasts can see professional athletes and celebrity fans – like Travis Pastrana, Andy MacDonald and Mike McGill - up close, like nowhere else in the world.

Sk8-Strong has built valuable partnerships with other local organizations to cross-promote and maximize our marketing impact. Our event is webcast around the world - with an audience reaching every state and over 55 countries, our impact is growing exponentially.

Promoted as a summer vacation destination, the majority of Rocky Mountain Rampage athletes and fans spent an average of five days in Colorado Springs, netting the region an economic gain of over $200,000 last year. We are expecting a significant increase in our 2016 economic impact.

Sk8-Strong, organizer of the Rocky Mountain Rampage, is a fiscally responsible, IRS-accredited 501(c)3 nonprofit organization. We have maintained a positive financial balance since our inception, have no outstanding loans or debts and are in good standing with all our fiscal sponsor organizations, to include the Pikes Peak Community Foundation, Indy Give!, Network for Good and the K Foundation.
